The Viny Ridge Banquet and dance which has been staged annually by the local members of the Gleichen branch of the Canadian Legion, was held Wednesday, April 3, and proved another outstanding success.

Mr. W. Jennings gave the use of his building for the banquet, at which wives of members and friends to the number of a hundred were present. Among invited guests were members of the Municipal Council and their wives, M. H. Ward, Arrowwood; Donald Sinclair, Vulcan; and Steve Williams, Queenstown. Dr. Carson and P. Disher of Vulcan, and J. H. Smith of the Provincial Command were represented by Comrade Walter Bullard of Calgary, Provincial President. Toasts were drunk to the King, the Provincial Command, the ladies and the visitors. The silent auction was to the fall.

President Bullard reviewed the recent trip of Alex. Walker to Ottawa, on the proposed amendment to the War Veterans' Allowance Act, to reduce the age at which Veterans are to draw allowance, to fifty years. He stated that the investigation made by the Provincial officers had shown that the figures of the cost of relief, as presented to Parliament, were incorrect. This was due to lack of support of the Alberta Branch. A statement was presented that showed the annual cost to be $60,000, but that the saving in relief would reduce this figure to a net cost of $25,000,000. The amount of allowance to be paid would be $40 per month. There was he believed a strong hope that the amendment would be carried.

The banquet was ably handled by Mrs. Webster. There were eight young ladies of the town and district, dressed in red, white and blue aprons and caps. The ladies were the Misses A. Rubelke, M. Rubelke, V. McLaughlin, H. Miller, E. O'Leary, M. O'Leary, N. Asselstine and M. Oler. In the kitchen were Mr. and Mrs. Shultz, Mrs. Blower and Mr. J. Laid.

At the dance which followed the banquet the following were prize winners: Miss Pauline and her partner, Glen Newall; Miss Jean McBride and Mr. Roy Sharpe. Billy Jones, aged 10 of Penley Academy, Calgary, gave several exhibition dances during the evening which were enthusiastically received. The Prairie Ramblers orchestra of Calgary supplied the music.

The W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Lund on Thursday, April 4th. The Convener, Mrs. Clark, of Cluny, was present and gave a comprehensive report of the Lethbridge Convention. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. McFae of Shouldice.

Miss L. Rubelke and Mr. D. Miller of Arrowwood were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rubelke over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride and Miss Fisher were visitors at the Rubelke home last Sunday.

Tests Show Silage Kills Weed Seeds

Ensiling of weed seeds under proper conditions destroys their ability to germinate according to experiments conducted at Manitoba Agricultural College. These tests were made over a period of years by Dr. G. P. McRostie, Professor of Agronomy, University of Manitoba, and W. Tilsley M.Sc., assistant on weed research, under the direction of and financed by the line elevator operators through the North West Grain Dealers' Association.

A pamphlet outlining the findings of the survey has been published and it is available free of charge at all line elevators or may be obtained by writing to the North West Grain Dealers' Association, Winnipeg. The pamphlet has been prepared in a manner which is readily understandable by the layman and can be read.

Is Democracy A Failure?

Articles appearing in this column from week to week have, over a considerable period of time, had two main objectives—to convey information and to provide constructive thought on the part of the reader. At the same time an earnest endeavor has been made to refrain from discussion of questions which are the subject of partisan political controversy or of sharp differences of opinion arising out of racial or religious views. In the present disturbed state of the world, when practically every financial, economic and social question has become part and parcel of some political creed it is no easy matter for any writer, unless he confines himself to meaningless platitudes, not to appear to take sides and express views which others may interpret as somewhat partisan in character one way or another. Notwithstanding this difficulty an honest effort has been made in this column to steer clear of partisanship while at the same time in discussing matters of public interest to give some point and value to these articles.

The writer is firmly convinced that what is needed at all times, and never more so than at present, is adherence to well grounded sound principles, the dissemination of accurate information, and clear constructive thinking on the part of each individual citizen. A demagogue may be clever and interesting and able to sway a mob, but he is not a state and constructive leader and a mob is a dangerous thing.

This week we propose to submit no questions, but do not intend to answer them. Rather we wish to have the reader answer them for himself or herself. In other words, do their own thinking.

General Hugh A. Johnson, until recently director of Roosevelt's NRA programme, stated the other day that "democracy is the best government in the world for peace and prosperity, but it is the worst government in the world for a great war." This is true, and it is true what that democracy is such a statement or situation imply? Does it mean that democracy is a system of government which is unreliable and cannot be trusted? Is it the system or the people who are weak? Does it mean that when things are pressing and the people are in a minimum of worries, they are careless, thoughtless, indifferent? Does it mean that when a crisis develops the people have panic stricken emotions and reckless, ready to act precipitately without taking thought of the ultimate consequences of their action?

Does General Johnson's statement, if true, imply that the nations of the world should abandon democracy as a system of government and revert to more autocratic and dictatorial forms of government? Should they relinquish the political freedom which is now theirs, and entrusting to such more autocratic governments full control at all times, in peace and prosperity as well as in times of war, emergency and crisis?

If democracy is not to be abandoned, and we are not to accept Communism, Fascism, Socialism, or other forms of government which involve abandonment of existing democratic political rights and freedom, how is democracy to be made safe for the world at all times, because it cannot be thrown into the discard in times of trouble and emergency and restricted to the peaceful times of plenty and prosperity? It is here that we must make to function efficiently the moment the crisis passes?

It will be admitted by many that the world has been termed the Industrial Revolution of the Nineteenth Century, human society was completely reorganized.

There has been an extraordinary rise in wage levels and living standards. With this rise of the economic status of the worker there has been an even more pronounced rise in his social and political status. Public schools, newspapers, labor unions, and the influence of wage-earners as consumers have been established. The masses have become the primary political power. The universal ballot, without property or educational qualification, have given control of government to the masses of the people.

Commenting on this development, the great economists in one of the great American universities has written: "Here lies the danger of injury to the democratic system. The masses have become the primary political power of economic knowledge. Visionary theorists and self-seeking politicians may guide and direct it into perilous paths. Nobody wants to throw back this idea of democracy. Nobody and no one wants to learn self-control and to gain understanding. It has neither at present."

In this professedly of economic knowledge, the masses are endangered by lack of self-control and understanding on the part of those very people who have the most to lose and suffer if democracy is lost to the world, and who have the most to gain and enjoy if democracy is maintained and made to function in times of emergency and crisis as well as in times of peace and prosperity? In a word, are our present political rights and power under democracy to be unthinkingly utilized in a time of stress and emergency to overthrow and destroy democracy itself? Are people going to prove the truth of General Johnson's statement that democracy is not a safe system in times of crisis?

How can people be taught self-control in times of emergency? How can the tendency to panic be overcome? How can understanding be given to the masses so that they will refrain from panic and exercise self-control thus overcome the crisis and prevent the taking of disastrous action? How, when there are always demagogues, agitators, self-seekers whether in politics or other spheres, ever ready to inflame and mislead the masses are these masses of voters who to-day control all governments, going to be educated to think for themselves, refrain from being influenced by mob psychology, and exercise self-control through the obtaining of sound knowledge and an understanding of basic irrefutable principles?

In the task too great of democracy, that is, for mankind itself? Or must mankind revert to the state from which it has straggled upward through the centuries and make confession that, being incapable of self-government in the mass there is only one thing to do and that is to repose its trust and place the power which the masses now possess in the hands of a few to exercise for them, direct and control on their behalf? Finally, if this is done, will the masses remain content to have it so, or will the old struggle of man be commenced all over again?

This is the acute problem facing the world to-day? Democracy itself must and will answer it. Will that answer be for its own preservation, or will it be for self-destruction?

Bells Ring Electrically

Italian Villagers Looked For Miracle Until Mystery Solved

When they heard the bells of the little church of San Pietro ringing for a number of days and nights, apparently by themselves, the villagers of Lucca, Italy, thought it portended a miracle. The clappers of the bells were tied and the parish priest locked the bell tower and put the key in his pocket. But still the bells went on ringing. Finally the local electrician discovered the bells were being rung electrically as the overhead wire for the tramway lines between Lucca and Maggiano had come into contact with the belfry. Now the villagers are able to sleep again.

DOUBLED UP WITH RHEUMATISM

Could Not Wash Himself—Nor Brush His Hair

So bad was his rheumatism that the patient declared he would never work again. Although he is 70 years of age he proved he was wrong. Read what he says:—

I am seventy years of age. Last Christmas I was completely doubled up with rheumatism. I could not move my hair nor wash myself. People said I should never work any more. I am working harder than a 20-year-old man to-day. Thanks, many thanks, to Kruschen Salt. I take them in my oil out of bed every day. But see me work now—12 hours a day sometimes. Kruschen Salt has cured me.

Rheumatic conditions are the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salt have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients assist Nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the urinary system. In addition, there are still other salts in Kruschen which prevent further fermentation in the intestines, and thereby check the further accumulation of uric acid in the blood. One of every body poisons which underlines the health.

Cheerful Factors

Moderate Improvement Shown In Expected To Continue

"The moderate improvement reported a year ago may be expected to continue," the fourth annual "Farm Outlook for Saskatchewan" prepared by Dr. William Allan and Professor E. C. Hope of the department of farm management of the University of Saskatchewan, predicted. Wheat drought but more likely to rise than decline, some improvement over last year in prices for beef cattle, dairy cows and butter, rising prices for sheep and pork hogs, and a rise in wool towards the end of the year, are some of the cheerful factors indicated.

Robot Sorter Has Been Tested At Brighton, England

In future, most letter-sorting may be entrusted to a machine capable of handling letters three times as quickly as by hand. This robot sorter, which has been tried out at Brighton, is like a human typewriter. Letters pass into it on a running belt. When the practised eye of the operator sees Leeds, for instance, he presses the Leeds key, when Glasgow, the Glasgow key, and these letters are automatically fall into their proper receptacles. It is to be hoped, for the peace of mind of the operator, that there is a receptacle for the full class which requires a handwriting expert.

In Uruguay, South America, there are two potato crops, in which the first and most important is planted in September and October and harvested from December to February, while the second is sown in January and February and dug three months later, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. The domestic crop is insufficient to meet consumption. Imports consist principally of table potatoes, but there is a certain demand for seed. The bulk of the table potatoes come from Argentina. Using Sun For Cooking

Solar Heat Collector Shown At Meeting Of Scientists

A device for making the sun do a part of man's work was shown to the American Association for the Advancement of Science at the beginning of its winter meeting in Pittsburgh. It is a solar heat collector which, in twenty minutes, develops temperature in excess of 400 degrees Fahrenheit. The inventor is the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, Dr. C. G. Abbot. The device can be used for ordinary cooking purposes. Dr. Abbot has been using it on Mount Wilson (California) for the generation of steam for power. It is hoped that ultimately it can be made to drive large steam engines at a practicable cost. The apparatus employs a number of small mirrors fixed at right angles to the earth's axis and mounted on a frame which will turn on an axle parallel to the earth's axis. There are a number of tubes filled with black oil and protected from loss of heat by double vacuum jackets. These transmit the collected heat to a reservoir of oil, and into this reservoir ovens are inserted for cooking purposes or a tubular boiler for generating steam.

In the course of a few minutes.
The exact means by which ensilage kills weed seeds has not been determined as yet.
Present indications are that various acids developed through ensiling play a prominent part in rendering the weed seeds in silage safe for feeding by destroying their germination.

Tests were conducted covering the following ordinary weed seed: Ball mustard, Bar-
naryard Grass, Blue Burr,
Broad Leaf Plantain, Cow
Cockle, False Flax, Hares ear
Mustard, Indian Mustard,
Lamb's Quarters, Leafy Spurge, Night Flowering Catchfly, Perennial Sow Thistle, Purslane, Red Root Pigweed, Russian Fig
weed, Russian Dandelion, Shepherds Purse, Stinkweed, Tumble Weed, Wild Oats, Wild Buckwheat, Yellow Foxtail.

The weed seeds lost their ability to germinate after two weeks ensilage. This new survey will do much to add to the assistance which line elevator companies have been to farmers in their fight against weeds.

Major Hoople On Income Tax Return

Major Hoople—"Egad — by Noah's beard—this income tax blank is a jumble of balderdash
I have made astronomical calculations to the fraction of light speed per second. I have worked mathematical problems on the fourth dimension. But this will drive me daft! Internal revenue — faw — infernal revenue! Sput-t—Egad I can't fathom this!"

The Star Boarder—"Best way is to become a whirling Dervish.
And right after a spin, you take a bowling score sheet multiply it by the serial number of your insurance policy, divide it by the size of your collar, then go out an' bust a window! Four total is on the badge of the first cop who nabs
you!"

Seems that a self-styled "frantie mother" phoned WDG.Y. in St. Paul, and sobbed that her ten-year-old son hadn't reached home yet—although school had been out almost an hour.

She asked the station to broadcast and then call the police for her. She said the kids name was Robert, but she couldn't remember how he was dressed.

When the switchboard operator asked for more details, the mother became impatient. She said she couldn't talk any longer because she had company—and had to get back to the bridge game! . . . Variety.

Center-Poise Riding in a

Passengers Located Close to Center of Car

Three major engineering principles combine to give to the new Ford V-8 for 1935 what Ford engineers term the "centre-poise" ride, according to Larsen Implements, local Ford dealers.

These principles are: Correct spring suspension, involving equality of front and rear spring flexibility.
Proper car weight balance and passenger weight distribution.

Location of passengers close to centre of the car.
Utilization of these in combination as practiced by Ford engineers, achieves for the new Ford V-8 remarkable improvement in riding comfort without sacrifice of either safety or stability.
